To: Whom it may concern

We recently held a company picnic for our employees and their families at an outside venue; to make things a little different from the events we've held in the past, we asked Rob Jenkins to entertain our employees with his "strolling magic".

For two solid hours, he strolled through the crowd of approximately 175 people performing his magic tricks to small groups of employees and their children; he was an absolute hit with everyone – adults and children alike.

As he strolled through the crowd, he gathered very small groups people which allowed not only everyone to see, but to also be involved in his mind-boggling tricks. It was absolute priceless to see the looks on the children's faces as their eyes widened, mouths dropped as they giggled in disbelief; the adults were captivated as well as many of them had the same expressions. After seeing Rob's "handy work", quite a few employees let me know that "I did good" by asking Rob to attend our event.

The President of our company thought Rob was outstanding, and was quite impressed at the quality of "work" he did. Rob definitely provided an unforgettable entertainment experience for our employees.

Rob is very personable and eager to display his talents with everyone. We highly recommend Rob Jenkins for entertainment at any event.

Sincerely,
